

Do not allow Broadband to be sent across the power grid. As an amateur radio operator I already have enough problems caused by power lines.

Broadband Over Power Lines will destroy my life in amateur radio as I know it. There are enough ways for the internet to be distributed without adding it to the power lines. The electric company should only be in the power supply business not in the communications business.

Thanks

Danny O. Judd K4DOJ